Secardeo is a Leader for Cloud Encryption

Press Release

NO. 1/ 2014

Ismaning, 04. June 2014 – Secardeo is positioned as a "Leader" for Cloud Encryption in the Cloud Vendor Benchmark 2014 of the Experton Group. According to the analyst "the cloud user himself has to perform encryption with state-of the art technology and independently from the cloud provider". The user friendly certDrive app enables a highly secure any-to-any encryption for exchanging files via cloud storage systems like Dropbox:

- end-to end encryption
- from any device
- to any partner
- via public, managed or private cloud storage

The required on-premise key management is done with the path leading TOPKI platform. Here, the users of an enterprise will be automatically provided with their private keys and certificates. The partner certificates which are needed for encryption will be found and loaded in an automated manner from the internet.

The certDrive app is available for Windows, Android and, shortly, for iOS. The TOPKI platform can be seamlessly integrated with an Active Directory environment. The software is provided with the quality seal „IT Security made in Germany“.

With this, enterprises may exchange their data reliably via the cloud without fearing that they may be eavesdropped by the cloud provider, industrial spys or intelligence services.
